

Certified Veterinary Acupuncture Therapist Program

Evidence Based | Experience Driven

Certified Veterinary Acupuncture Therapist Program

For Veterinarians

CRI is excited to introduce its new Certified Veterinary Acupuncture Therapist (CVAT) program, open only to licensed veterinarians. The lead instructor will be Bonnie Wright, DVM, DACVAA, CVMA, CVPP, CCRP.

All modules will take place at Wheat Ridge Animal Hospital in Wheat Ridge, Colorado.

Get Started This Fall!

A limited number of spaces are currently available in our first module – Introduction to Veterinary Medical Acupuncture, being held October 5-7, 2018.

This first module recently has been RACE approved by the AAVSB for 40 credit hours.

What's Required?

The Certified Veterinary Acupuncture Therapist Program includes two required modules and one elective. Each module includes three days in the classroom and approximately 16 hours of online content.

All students take:

- Introduction to Veterinary Medical Acupuncture
- Veterinary Medical Acupuncture for Sports Medicine/Rehabilitation Patients

Electives include:

- Canine and Feline Medical Acupuncture
- Medical Acupuncture for Small Mammals, Avian and Exotic Patients

Our initial set of courses will be limited to 20 students with 5 faculty members on site.

Fees

Each module is $2,500, for a total program fee of $7,500. Students can save $200 by registering for Module 2 with either Module 3 or 4.

Upcoming Modules

- Introduction to Veterinary Medical Acupuncture (Module 1): October 5-7, 2018
- Veterinary Medical Acupuncture for Sports Medicine/Rehabilitation Patients (Module 2): December 7-9, 2018
- Canine and Feline Medical Acupuncture (Module 3, Elective): March 29-31, 2019
- Introduction to Veterinary Medical Acupuncture (Module 1): June 29-July 1, 2019
- Veterinary Medical Acupuncture for Sports Medicine/Rehabilitation Patients (Module 2): August 3-5, 2019

Additional modules have been scheduled for 2019. Please visit the Acupuncture Program page on our website for a complete list.

Already Certified in Acupuncture?

If you are already certified in acupuncture and are interested in CRI's CVAT program, please contact us about your options.